Happiness remains in Gascon country, Circuit N°19

1 Day 1 :

At the Lalonde Castle you will come as a heritage, art, nature and gastronomy lover.

Following the Lot flow you will discover Villeneuve-sur-Lot, founded in the middle of the XIIIth century and which was placed among the largest and most powerful walled towns in Gascon country.

The terrace gardens and the former laggio houses in the village of Casseneuil appear at the bend in a twist at the confluence of the Lède and the Lot rivers. Then you will stop on the ramparts of Laparade walled town to admire a 180° panorama of Villeneuve-sur-Lot on the east, of the confluence of the rivers Lot and Garonne on the west.

After having crossed the Garonne river you will approach the valley of Baïse and its vineyards on the hills along the river between Sainte-Colombe and Buzet. After a visit to the cellar in Saint-Pierre-de-Buzet you will heave yourself onto the hill where stretches the town of Xaintrailles with its castle from the XIIth and XVth centuries. You will be provided with a clear view from the valley of the Garonne to the forest of Tardes.

After going past Henri IV's mill and before approaching the discreet charm of Nérac you will cross the river over a humpback bridge built over Gothic archways.

You will cross Mézin a town which overlooks the confluence of the Gélise and Auzoue rivers and your journey will come to an end. By crossing a small bridge beside a medieval castle you will discover a typically English walled town founded in the XIIIth century according to a very original circular pattern.

Happiness remains in Gascon country, Circuit N°19

2 Day 2 :

The imposing castle of Fourcès is a building with an apparent austere look in a quite soft background. This serenity will be revealed in the refinement of the inner setting where the mullion windows exude a peaceful light into the vast bedrooms.

Amid the meadows and the wooden hills you will travel along the valley of Auzoué towered by the picturesque walled town of Montréal which harbours a superb fortified Gothic church.

Travel the time back by driving around the Gallo-Roman cottage of Séviac. Then you will approach the Pyrénées foothills. The hills which harbour the Armagnac vineyard provide a range of shimmering colours at the time of grape harvests. Have a stop at the Roman church of Mouchan before travelling towards the Cassaigne castle where you will taste armagnac aged in oak casks, as well as a white "floc" from Gascogne.

You will cross Larressingle where the moats and the fortifications which protected a XIIIth century keep still remain. Then you will arrive in Condom where the arranged-canal Baïse was used to export Armagnac for a long time. While ambling all along the former quays you will distinguish Saint-Pierre cathedral, one of the last Gascon buildings with a Gothic style.

Further you will approach the Gers valley overlooked by Lectoure. From the bastion terrace you will enjoy a splendid view over the whole valley and the Pyrénées range. After crossing Monfort which lies on a ridge line overlooking the valley of Gimone, your journey will come to an end at Solomiac.

Happiness remains in Gascon country, Circuit N°19

3 Day 3 :

Happiness remains in the Gascon country, it is also this spacious home on top of the hill surrounded by a quiet and verdant nature.

At the Eurose inn you will enjoy a silence cure after having tasted the local specialties and a few aged armagnacs. You will travel along small twisted roads alternately punctuated with helmets and views in order to reach the Arrats valley. The Gaumont castle which protected the entry to the valley appears suddenly after a bend.

Following the Arrats stream you will reach the left bank of the river Garonne. Take advantage of your stay in Auvillar to cross the splendid square of the covered market surrounded by houses from the XVIIth et XVIIIth centuries and walk until the end of the esplanade where you will enjoy a splendid view over the villages, the churches and the castles of the Garonne valley.

The walled town of Puymirol stands on a promontory which overlooks the plains of Agenais at the confluence of the Séoune and the Gandaille rivers. After the old houses of Laroque-Timbaud you will discover the Gothic church of HautePAGE and above all the Renaissance tower which is used as a church tower. Then you will travel towards the Lot valley that you will admire from the view on the hill where stands Notre-Dame-de-Peyragude.

You will follow the picturesque side streets of Penne-d'Agenais to reach this hill, a town which has kept its former fortified doors. Further you will turn back to the Lalande castle at Saint-Sylvestre-sur-Lot.
