Discreet assets in Pays basque, Circuit N°20

1 Day 1 :

Between the sea and the mountain in a six hectare park you will discover the Urtubie castle a family property since 1341.

To tour the Pays basque mountain you will follow the Preux road then you will cross the small vacation resort of Ascain and at the Saint-Ignace pass you will follow the rack railway leading to the Rhune. From the top of this peak-border you will discover a unique panorama over the ocean stretches on the west, forest stretches on the north, mountainous ones on the east and hilly ones on the south.

you will reach the town of Sare and its picturesque streets described by Pierre Loti. You will drive on through typical villages such as Ainhoa with its right half-timbered houses, ringdove huts, prairies inhabited with ewes. After the Pinodiéta pass you will cross the trade town Espelette famous for the trade of these small wild horses called Pottoks.

When travelling down towards Cambo-les-Bains will provide the visitor with a new magnificent view over the Basque Pyrénées and the Nive valley. The spa-resort Cambo found fame at the beginning of the XXth century. Edmond Rostand who was appealed by the mildness of its climate settled an immense Basque-Labourdin style cottage, Arnage is now open to the public.

Driving up the Nive valley you will go around the humpback bridge from the XIth century to visit the Roman chapel of Bidarray. Saint-Etienne-de-Baïgorry will be the end of your journey.

2 Day 2 :

Some bedrooms in the Hôtel Arcé a former Basque inn have a balcony overlooking the river Nive while other ones offer a splendid view over the Pyrénées. When leaving Saint-Etienne-de-Baigorry you will discover the last remain of a large vineyard which found its origin in the XIIIth century. Iroulégu village gave its name to the wine with a controlled label of origin, its red wines being tonic and fruity.

The last French stop on Saint-Jacques-de-Compostelle paths before crossing the Roncevaux pass, Saint-Jean-Pied-de-Port was marked by the valiant knights ' history and mainly Roland's tragic death. It was immortalized by the rearguard courage of Charlemagne's army at the end of the VIIIth century.

At Iholdy and its church with a joined outer wooden circle and impediment which display an outstanding unit you will reach la Joyeuse valley. You will follow it up to Saint-Palais a characteristic town of Basse-Navarre. From rivers to hills you will reach le Gave d'Oloron. The town of Sauveterre-de-Béarn appears from the old XIIIth century bridge with its fortifications, its church and its tower Montréal.

In the bend of a wide twist you will discover the walled town of Sorde which shelters a former abbey and a church.

A the confluent of the Gaves de Pau and d'Oloron, Peyrehorade remained on the major passages from the Landes to Pays basque. Now Asprémont castle harbours the town hall. You will drop the anchor on the banks of l'Adour at the Port-de-Lanne.

3 Day 3 :

The "Vieille Auberge" at the Port-de-Lanne, a temple guardian of the local traditions has been transformed into a real museum for many decades. The cosy bedrooms and the colored garden will fulfil your stay in this village at the end of Gascogne and on the banks of l'Adour.

After having crossed back the joined Gaves, the road rises towards Bidache where the lords of Gramont settled down about the XIVth century.

Situated at the outmost borders of Navarre, Béarn and the kingdom of France the Gramont castle kept a privileged situation. Nowadays the ruins of this fortress harbour a aviary of eagles which can be visited.

from hills to hills you will approach Bardos. Before entering in the village do not forget to stop on a height to admire a unique panorama over the Adour valley on the north and the Basque Pyrénées range on the South.

You will pursue your journey until Bayonne going past the monument of the Mouguerre cross commemorating the battles of Napoléon's army during the campaign of Spain.

At the monument you will discover a 360° landscape from the Pyrénées to the Landes including the Basque country and Bayonne.

After Bayonne and Anglet you will stop at the Rocher de la Vierge to admire Biarritz, the côte basque pearl which was widely marked by the empress Eugénie whose mansion has now become a superb palace. St-Jean-de-Luz found fame when le Roi Soleil (the Sun King) decided to celebrate his alliance with Spain by marrying the Infante Marie Thérèse. You will still admire the Infante's house, the last witness of the Royal wedding before reaching the Basque corniche. From cliff to cliff you will discover imposing landscapes and picturesque sites before travelling down towards the Abbodie castle and Hendaye. Still some more effort and you will reach Urrugne the end of this "Dream Itinerary".
